

ARMSTRONG JUNIOR COLLEGE

BULLETIN
October 11, 1935

This is the first of the publications planned by the publications Board of the college. It is published entirely through the efforts of the staff of the monthly paper, which will appear about the latter part of this month.

The purpose of the bulletin is to keep the students informed of the happenings in and about the college, and we will be glad to publish any announcements or news of student interest upon request.

At present, it is our intention to issue this sheet once a week, but if the student demand is great enough we will attempt to put it out more often. We will greatly appreciate any suggestions or criticism from the student body, as we wish to make this bulletin informative, interesting, and readable to all the students.

(While the following does not directly concern Armstrong, we feel that the information will be of interest to some of the students, and accordingly we include it here.)

TOMORROW'S GAMES

S.H.S. vs Statesboro-at Statesboro
Benedictine vs. Bolles-at Savannah
Georgia vs Furman
Georgia Tech vs Kentucky

The Dramatic Club will meet on Thursday of next week.

At a meeting of the student body held yesterday at 1:00, maroon and gold were chosen as the official school colors, and as no majority was obtained for the name of the paper, this will be decided upon by the Student Council.

TAG DANCE

The first student social function of Armstrong College will be a tag dance tonight from 9:30 until 1:00 at the Chatham Artillery dance hall on Bull and Park Avenue. Members of the faculty will act as chaperons and the music will be furnished by the Dixie Gamecocks.

Glee club try-outs will be held this afternoon between 4:00 and 5:00 in the assembly room. Both boys and girls are asked to attend.

COLLEGE PUTS ON ROTARY PROGRAM

The fact that talent is not lacking in the college was proved last Tuesday when four students took part in a program for the Rotary Club. Vocal selections were rendered by Hugh Taylor, an accordion selection by Mary Scarborough, and Frank Henry and Elizabeth Cobb upheld the speaking end.

From all reports the program was enjoyable and well-received and the students who took part deserve the congratulations and thanks of the entire student body.

STUDENT COUNCIL FORMED

Frank Henry
Robert Lanier
Dolores Cowart
Francis Dasher
Mark Johnson
Alva Lines
Howard Paddison
Joe Rivers

These are the leaders whom the student body has chosen to guide it through this - one of the most important and difficult years of its existence. We expect a great deal from them, but the success of the student government does not rest on their shoulders alone. The only way any organization can succeed is through the combined efforts of all its members; and our student government is no exception to this rule. The members of the Student Council will do all in their power to put over the plans that have been made, but they can do nothing without our cooperation.

Let's all pull together with those we have selected as our leaders, and make our school live up to its building - "the finest in the South".

One of the features of the monthly paper will be a review of a current picture showing in Savannah. Two passes to the Lucas Theatre will be given to the student submitting the best review. Rules of the contest and name of the picture to be reviewed will be announced at an early date.

October 18, 1935

NAME OF PAPER DECIDED

At a meeting of the student body held last Monday, "The Inkwell" was chosen by popular vote as the official name for the monthly school paper. This decision came only after much discussion, two or three votes and a petition from the student body.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Now that we have school colors all we need is a mascot and a song. You naturalists and song-writers get busy.

SUBSCRIPTION DRIVE

STARTS MONDAY

Ophelia Park, circulation manager of "The Inkwell" announced that the drive for subscriptions would start Monday. The subscription price is twenty five cents per quarter for students and one dollar per quarter for others. An attempt will be made to enroll the entire student body as well as numerous outsiders as subscribers.

Students may subscribe practically any time during the day in the Publication Office on the third floor.

Picture Review Rules

The moving picture review contest sponsored by "The Inkwell" will begin this week. One of the pictures to be reviewed is "Top Hat", and the other will be announced next week. All reviews must be confined to two hundred words, written on one side of the paper. All entries should be in the hands of the staff by Monday, October 28.

Mac, the bookstore man, announces that two-bit tickets to the high school football games will have to be bought from him at the bookstore. Although he isn't getting anything out of it (according to him) he will be the only one to handle them. Other tickets will be thirty-five cents.

Billy Mann says that there will be a ping-pong table in the basement on which those who want to be strong men but don't like ~~practise~~ spinach can develop their biceps. The only catch is the nickel per game fee which will be turned over to the Athletic Association.

Those who weren't at the reception given by the First Baptist Church last Tuesday Night surely missed a good time. The hosts and hostesses deserve our sincerest thanks for the fine evening.

We extend our heartiest sympathy and sincerest wishes for a speedy recovery to our fellow-student and friend, Luther Jenkins who was seriously injured in an automobile crash several days ago.

We also hope to see Eddie Dufour, who is down with appendicitis back at school in the near future.

The only ones who didn't enjoy the dance last Friday night were those who weren't there.

Take a notebook and pencil the next time you go to the Lucas, and your review might win a prize.

Be sure to bring twenty-five cents to school Monday. "The Inkwell" is only a quarter a quarter ~~amount~~.

We will be glad to publish any lost and found notices in this sheet. Bring your copy to the Publication Office before 1:00 Thursday. We will also publish any other notices under the same conditions.

TOMORROW'S GAMES

S.H.S. vs. Boy's High-at Savannah

Benedictine vs. Glynn-at Brunswick

Georgia vs. N.C.State-at Raleigh

Georgia Tech vs. Duke-at Atlanta

The Athletic Association will meet at 1:00 to-day in the assembly room.

GOLF TEAM FORMED

Francis Dasher, Thomas Carr, Frank Henry, and Arthur Jeffords were recently named as members of the Armstrong Golf team.

Matches will be arranged in the very near future with other junior colleges throughout the state, senior college freshmen, and with High School and Benedictine.

The team's prospects are very bright and it will probably go a long way this year.

ATTENTION, BOOK LOVERS!!

Plans are now afoot for the formation of a reading club among the students. The purpose of the club will be to discuss and read the various new books, but all plans are as yet tentative.

Further developments will be given in our next issue.

The Dramatic Club will meet next Thursday night at 7:30.

The Literary Society will meet on Wednesday at 3:30 in the Assembly room in order further to discuss the constitution.

Although many students think so, this is not "The Inkwell", but merely a supplement. "The Inkwell" will be a printed paper, the size of the "Blue and White" and will contain live news, snappy feature stories and pertinent editorials. It will appear in the first part of November.

There will be a short Assembly today at 1:00 o'clock, followed by a brief meeting of all those interested in the Glee Club and Chorus. Those who have not yet tried out are urged to remain for this meeting, so that rehearsals may be begun next week.

BASKETBALL TEAM

The basketball team had its first meeting Wednesday and made preliminary plans for the season. Quite a number of candidates turned out and the team ought to have a good season.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Now that both golf and basketball teams have gotten under way, we are assured of at least two athletic representatives this year. Here's hoping that these are only the beginning of a long line of victorious maroon and gold teams.

It seems that the marble stairway is being measured for a carpet. Perhaps some of the students will find it easier to keep their footing if it is installed.

The ping-pong table in the grill room is getting a lot of the nickels that formerly went into the marble boards across the street.

Those who formerly were seen at the college library every evening will now have to find new excuses to get out nights.

The fifty-five cent tickets to the Kreisler concert were very popular. If the student demand is great special prices can probably be obtained to all similar performances.

If you're interested in the Reading Club, talk it up.

PING-PONG TOURNAMENT

The first matches in the Armstrong Junior College ping-pong tournament will be held on Monday. This offers an excellent opportunity for those who want to excel in sports at once. The entry fee is only one dime and the prize is one dollar each for the boy and girl winners. See Billy Mann.

HE PICKS 'EM THIS WAY

Joe Rivers, our Sports editor, gives a slant on how some of the games will come out tomorrow. (The paper takes no responsibility for bets made on Joe's selections.)

Benedictine will bow down to G.M.A. S.H.S. will take Richmond. Georgia Tech will lose to U. of N.C. Georgia will have the big side of the score in their game with Ala.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION CLASSES TO BEGIN

Compulsory physical education for both boys and girls will begin the early part of next week. Three hours per week attendance will be required, and the class will last throughout the entire school year. Two hours will be devoted to actual exercises and the third will comprise a lecture period. Classes will be divided into two groups and will be held from 1 to 2 o'clock on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and the lecture will probably be held on Tuesday afternoon.

The girls' program will consist of exercises, volley ball, tennis, croquet, relays, folk dancing and group games, while the boys will take part in exercises, basket ball, volley ball and other games.

GOLF TEAM TO PLAY MATCHES

The Armstrong golf team will play its first match with Savannah High School Sunday at the Savannah Golf Club. The members of the team are as follows:

Francis Dasher
Arthur Jeffords
Frank Henry
Thomas Carr

Anyone who wishes to buy stationery with the college crest on it should give his name to Miss Spencer.

The Dramatic Club meeting will be held this afternoon at 3:30.

The Glee Club will meet Wednesday at 8:00 P.M.

TENNIS

Under the supervision of Miss Frances Ennis, Home Economics Instructor, a preliminary tennis tournament has been started.

From the tournament will be selected the top ranking players who will compose the college tennis team.

According to all expectations the college should turn out a crack team. There are a lot of experienced tennis fiends in school

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Congratulations to the new vice-president of the Georgia librarians.

We owe our thanks to the G.E.A. for our Hallowe'en holiday.

It looks as though we will have a fine auditorium before the end of the year. Thank you, voter

Now that the ping-pong table is upstairs its popularity has increased. By the way, have you signed up for the tournament?

Bring your quarter for "The Inkwell". We ought to have one hundred per cent.

"INKWELL" WILL APPEAR

"The Inkwell" will make its first appearance next Friday and will contain items of interest for all students as well as outsiders. The first edition will be an inaugural issue and will contain many features which will be of interest in the years to come. It will also be the first periodical published by white college students to be printed on Southern pine paper. You will want a copy for your scrap book.

HE PICKS 'EM THIS WAY

Judging from the results of last week's football games your Sports editor is a little skeptical about picking the winners this week, but here goes.

It looks as if Benedictine is headed for another set-back in Atlanta against Tech High this week-end, while Lanier and S.H.S. fight it out under the lights Friday night here. My vote goes for S.H.S. Georgia will make up for last week's defeat by running over Florida, and Tech will go down fighting against Vanderbilt.

"INKWELL" PUBLICATION POSTPONED

Due to the fact that the students were not fully cooperating with the staff in the matter of subscriptions to "The Inkwell", publication was delayed for one week. At present, it is planned to issue the first edition on next Friday, November 15.

It is absolutely essential that all students subscribe, as we cannot hope to obtain the necessary advertisements unless the student body is one hundred per cent.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION EQUIPMENT HERE

A large supply of equipment for the physical education classes arrived at the school Wednesday morning. It consisted of several softballs and bats; basketball and volleyball equipment, including balls, nets, and baskets; a punching bag and punching bag gloves; two ping-pong sets; and two croquet games.

The equipment will be put to use in the near future by the classes and it will undoubtedly add much in interest and enjoyment to the class period.

COLLEGE TAG DANCE

Tonight the second Junior College tag dance will be given at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Bull and Liberty streets. The hall will be decorated in the school colors, and the dance will last from 9:30 until 1:00. Music will be furnished by the Ramblers, and members of the faculty will act as paperons.

GOLF TEAM TO PLAY

The college golf team will play the S.H.S. team tomorrow at 10:00 on the #4 Municipal Golf Course. The pairings are as follows:

Dasher-Barragan Henry-O'Leary
Jeffords-Budreau Carr-Weil

Students and faculty are urged to come out and see the match.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

A lot of boys have been seen walking around rather stiffly the past two or three days. We wonder if the physical education classes had anything to do with that.

Three days holiday this weekend. For once we can sleep late on Monday morning.

If the dance this week is as good as the last one, everyone is bound to have a good time.

Support "The Inkwell". You won't regret it.

Judging from the crowd Monday the club room in the basement would be the most popular place in the school, if the Home Economics Club served punch and sandwiches there every afternoon.

Crooners and torch singers, basses and sopranos, altos and tenors, whether you are another Caruso or not, be sure to turn out for the Glee Club. Meetings every Wednesday night at 8:00 and they only last one hour.

HE PICKS 'EM THIS WAY
By Joe Rivers

From the looks of things, the Savannah High School football team should have a nice trip to the sunshine city of Miami, but I am afraid that the score won't be as nice as the trip. Benedictine will have plenty on its hands Saturday night when they fight it out with the undefeated Richmond Academy Team. Richmond looks good to me.

Tech will beat Auburn, and Tulane will beat Georgia.

COLLEGE SONG

The following lines are suggested as a "Marching Song" for Armstrong. They are set to the tune of "March of the Men of Harlech", an old Welsh air.

If students can make any improvements on these lines, suggestions will be gladly received and considered. Leave your revised versions at the Publications office.

We need several college songs, and those who find good tunes which can be adapted for our purposes are urged to try their hand at putting appropriate words to them.

Marching Song

Alma Mater, we are marching
Ever onward to thy glory.
Faithful, loyal, true to Armstrong
We will ever be!
Forward to the victory,
Hearts that never waver,
Forward ever, backward never,
To our goal with courage still unfailing.
Fight for honor, right and duty,
Never mar the shining beauty
Of the name of Alma Mater,
Armstrong, hail to thee!

The golf team will play Savannah High tomorrow morning at 9:30 at the Savannah Golf Club. Come out and see the match.

The Dramatic Club will hold its meeting Dec. 6 instead of Nov. 29, which falls on Thanksgiving week-end.

There will be a meeting of the Glee Club Wednesday at 8:00.

Please fill out the following blank and hand it in to the Publications office as soon as possible.

Do you like the general appearance of "The Inkwell"? _____
Do you like the size of the paper? _____
Do you like the paper on which it was printed? _____
Do you like the size of the type? _____
Did you like the features? _____ Should all be continued or some left out? _____
Can you suggest other features which will be of interest to the student body? If so name them. _____
Do you prefer more news and fewer features or vice-versa? _____
Comments - Helpful suggestions will be greatly appreciated _____

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Be sure to fill out the blank at the bottom of this sheet. "The Inkwell" is your paper and unless you let the editors know what you think of it, and why you think as you do, they cannot hope to put out a paper which will be representative of the entire school. The blank will require only a few minutes to fill out, but will act as a guide to the staff when work is started on the next issue.

Gordon Dasher is getting along fine and will be glad to receive visitors. He is at home now. Drop in and see him.

Have you handed in your contribution for the name of the confectionery? Two dollars in trade comes in mighty handy sometimes.

Mention was made several weeks ago of the formation of a reading club. Definite plans are as yet incomplete, but there will be a meeting Monday afternoon at 4:15 to determine the necessary plans. All who are interested are urged to attend. The purpose of the club will be to discuss various books, both fiction and non-fiction. Miss Fortson is the faculty advisor.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

The Rev. Arthur Jackson of the First Baptist Church will make an address at the student assembly at one o'clock today. There will also be a program of music under the direction of Miss Spencer, and a new member of the Student Council will be elected to take the place of Joe Rivers who has resigned. All students are requested to be present.

The official examination schedule will be published in the next edition of the Supplement.

The college bookstore has just ordered a supply of stationery bearing a half-tone cut and the name of the college for personal use of the students. It will be on hand before the Christmas holidays and will be sold at a reasonable price. Pennants similar to the one in Mr. Lowe's office will also be available.

GOLF TEAM LOSES

The golf team lost its second match of the season to the Savannah High Bluejackets Saturday, November 23rd, at the Savannah Golf Club. The score was $12\frac{1}{2}$ - $5\frac{1}{2}$.

The contest for the name of the confectionery across the street from the college closes today. Get your entry in some time this morning. The student who submits the best name will be given two dollars in trade at the store.

SCHEDULE FOR GLEE CLUB

Sopranos - Tues., Dec. 10 at 5:00.
Full Chorus - Wednesday at 8:00
Male Quartet - Wednesday at 5:00
Basses - Thursday at 5:00.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The Glee Club has been rehearsing the new school song lately. When Miss Spencer can get the basses to sing softly enough the results are rather good.

The Literary Society starts debating tonight. We hope that they will be able to out-argue Savannah High and any other teams they meet. They have good prospects, anyhow.

Two more weeks of this quarter still to go. We predict that there will be a lot of midnight oil burnt for last minute cramming in the very near future.

The whole school seemed interested in the operation in Mr. Boyd's room last Monday. However, it seems that quite a few had pressing engagements just after things got under way.

By the way, who was the wit who put the cat's obituary on the bulletin board?

Congratulations to Mr. Boyd, Mr. Askew and Mr. Gignilliat who were recently elected to membership in the Georgia Alumni Association of Savannah.

The Dramatic Club's first play, presented at the meeting last night, gives promise of many fine presentations in the near future.

The Reading Club will meet tonight at 8:00 o'clock at the home of Frances Blomquist at 18 E. 39th St

The next edition of "The Inkwell" will appear on Friday, December 20, the last day of the Fall quarter.
